Tips

This form is to help graduate students and their temporary advisor navigate course selection and program policies, practices, and procedures. Fill this out during or before the August of the student's 1st year.

In the meeting, the advisor should:

- Explain the program basics, such as course requirements, the CSU Graduate School, departmental procedures and forms, and the relevant JMC Graduate Advising Manual (available on the department website).
- Identify potential courses for later semesters, including outside departments where additional courses relevant to the student's interest can be found.
- Identify any undergraduate skills classes that might be helpful.
- Suggest other faculty and some graduate students who may share the student's research interests.
- Explain that by the end of their 3rd semester, students must choose a permanent advisor who fits their interests and who will oversee their thesis/dissertation research.
- Explain that in addition, by the end of the 3rd semester, students must identify the other members of their thesis/dissertation committee for the GS6.
